the totally bamboo story

Over a decade ago, back when “green” was still just a color to most people, Tom and Joanne Sullivan designed the world’s first bamboo cutting board, and in 2000 they launched the Hawaiian Collection. The entire line consisted of seven boards, most of which they still carry. The Hawaiian collection set the standard of what a bamboo board should look like.

It all began with their quest to find a lightweight, ecological material to replace their oak ‘Hollywood Chairs’ director chair, which they designed and crafted for the movie industry. They discovered bamboo and instantly realized that “this was the answer”. Bamboo is a fast growing, sustainable material, and the rest, as they say, is history...

In the subsequent years, Tom & Joanne introduced hundreds of new designs, all made from bamboo. Some reworked classics and other “first ever” innovations cemented their reputation for always thinking outside the box.

Some of the milestones:

- 2000 - World’s first bamboo cutting board is introduced.
- 2001 - The first laminated bamboo salad bowl.
- 2002 - NewBoo salad hands.
- 2004 - Award-winning parquet cutting surface.
- 2005 - In-line glue up Caribbean collection, inline rolling pin.
- 2008 - 3-ply dishwasher safe GreenLite cutting boards.
- 2009 - World’s biggest bamboo salad bowl (16”).
- 2010 - “NewBoo” – a highly, compressed pulverized bamboo fiber.
- 2011 - DuraThin – World’s thinnest bamboo cutting board.

A Natural Alternative

Bamboo is the alternative for all things wood. It is the fastest growing plant on our planet and does not require any special care to grow. In fact, it is a grass that produces more oxygen than a hard wood forest of comparable size, it helps to reduce carbon dioxide gases blamed for global warming, and it helps to prevent soil erosion through its widespread root system and large canopy.

Quality

At Totally Bamboo, we are proud to say we use only the highest quality bamboo, harvested at the optimum age of 5 years from local bamboo forests. There are over 1200 species of bamboo; however, we choose to use “Moso” timber bamboo for its strength, density and versatility. As an added bonus, it is not a habitat for pandas.

Our factories adhere to a very stringent protocol for curing and processing the bamboo, ensuring the highest quality product. We take steps to ensure that employees are well taken care of and work in a safe and hazard free environment.

Design

Our goal is continuous improvement through design, developing new, unique and innovative products that appeal to the environmentally conscious.

The Color of Bamboo

Bamboo is naturally a light butter color. Through a process of steaming, the natural sugars are caramelized to produce the darker honey color.

The Grain of Bamboo

There are 3 grain types: Vertical Grain, Flat Grain and End Grain. Vertical Grain, approximately 1/4” wide is taken from the side of the split pole. Flat Grain, approx. 5/8” wide, is from the face and End Grain is the cross section of the pole.

NewBoo - Made entirely from rapidly renewable bamboo, this newly developed material is completely “tree free”, yet it evokes the warmth and beauty of an exotic tropical hard wood... all the sophisticated aesthetics yet none of the guilt! Originally developed for use as railroad ties in China, from this humble beginning Totally Bamboo recognized its potential and has refined the manufacturing process to it’s current form. Utilizing a specially developed system of heating pulverized bamboo fiber, it is then extremely compressed, permanently fusing it together utilizing a food safe adhesive to form a void-free block from which our various products are made.

Customer Service

Our customers and the environment are our top priorities. We take pride in our exemplary customer service, and our extensive list of customers show their appreciation through their loyalty.

Mission

Totally Bamboo’s mission is to continually strive to find new and innovative uses for this ecologically renewable alternative to hard woods. Bamboo holds the promise of a sustainable, cost effective and ecologically responsible alternative to the widespread clear cutting of our world’s precious hard wood forests.

Thank you for choosing Totally Bamboo
Together we can do our part to help save our planet.
